Keep Faith With Cuba.

In considering the commercial relations of the United States and Cuba, it must be kept in mind that the industry of the island is at the mercy of this country.

In this country must the Cubans find their market. During the last fiscal year the exports amounted to $63,000-000, of which $45,000,000 worth of products came to the United States.
Under the Dingley tariff enacted in the interest of the sugar and tobacco trusts, the prices obtained by the planters are insufficient to maintain the industry. Sooner or later the planters will be impoverished and bankrupted.

The responsibility is upon the United States. The Cuban constitution contains provisions inserted at the demand of our government which effectually ties the hands of the islands and reduces the so-called "free and independent" republic to a condition of dependence. One of these is that "Cuba can make no treaties or com-pacts with foreign powers without consent of the United States."

This means that trade treaties will be rigorously censored at Washington, and what more natural than that the censorship should be dictated by the same influences that dictated our sugar and tobacco schedules?

Morally, such a course cannot be justified. Practically, Cuba's only market is in the United States, and we owe it to our national self-respect to enable her to sell her products on terms which will insure a reasonable return to capital and labor invested.
Cuba must have reciprocity with this country. The alternative is ruin for the Cubans and dishonor for Americans.

Which shall it be? Prosperity for the Cubans and an honest redemption of our good faith, or the interest of the two great trusts?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. L.B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gail stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It is a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy.

Splendid State Finances.

The Press extends congratulations to the State on the splendid State financial statement exhibited at the beginning of the current year. It was but a few months since the enemy was howling over depleted finances and bungling methods of keeping books.

Instead of taking fright at these charges the State administration opened the books to the examination of experts and received from the highest authority the certificate of thorough business methods in the management of the State's finances. And, now, to clinch matters, the last exhibit elicited from Gov. Dockery the following comments:

"All the demands upon the State Revenue Fund have been fully and promptly met, and there is now a surplus of about $115,000 in that fund.
"The bonded debt has been reduced and will be fully paid during the coming year.

"Our cash capital school funds invested in our own securities is the largest of any State of the Republic.
"The tax levy for State purposes proper is the lowest of any State in the Union."

Truly, discrepancies in Missouri finances are found in the debt column.
—Jefferson City Weekly Press.

N. Jackson, Danville, Ill., writes: "My daughter had a severe attack of la grippe and a terrible cough settled on her lungs. We tried a great many remedies without giving relief. She tried Foley's Honey and Tar which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since." Arcadia
